Category:FlashNew Year, New You In my work life I get to meet a lot of different people. Everyone has their own personalities, cultures, and mannerisms. When a team gets a new member, it can change the dynamic of a group. One new member could bring out a skill that a team didn't have before and people try to work with each other to improve their performance. At the same time, when a team gets new players, a coach doesn't know how to communicate and work with the new players. One time I was on a team that had players who had a lot of skills but they didn't understand how to work together. They didn't know how to communicate with each other. We got our point across to them that they were doing well, but they couldn't work well as a team. They had to learn how to work together. It's the same with you. When you get to college and you get a new teacher, it can change the way you learn. I've had students come to me and say that I'm not understanding them and I'm not explaining things well enough. One time I didn't understand a student and the student said I didn't understand them. In the future, when you see that happen, don't worry about it. Go back to that student and find out how they can help you understand yourself. Sometimes, you may have to learn how to explain things to them better. Sometimes, when you communicate with them better, they can learn how to communicate better. When you get to college and you get a new teacher, it can change the way you learn. I also want to tell you that with all new things,
