The wubi popey, o/ o/ davidcalle, why do you say that a-s needs to be root? mhr3, (I don't know, but it does) that's crazy why can't they just be managed through unix sockets? mhr3, through http-poll calls, which is a bit heavy for embedded systems, I believe sounds like a bug :P mhr3, well, it's not my day to have a good reason :p jcastro, so what was the story with ralsina? are we sure that was just a simple mistake? mhr3, there was a file that was called "proxy.cgi" in the root of the repos (the old project). mhr3, the file is now called "browser-plugin.cgi" davidcalle, yep, that was it mhr3, he tweeted it was, there's even a bug for it he said he would fix it in a second mhr3, jcastro, well, i did actually ask him about it, but he just said "meh" and went back to figuring how to do the no-google-maps thing hah yeah he really doesn't want to do that thing it's like, I already do it and I have to test and I don't want to be doing it and every time he tries to do it it doesn't work and he has to tweak and tweak and tweak then every day he's like "omg we're done" and his next thing is to find an easy way to do the no-google
