Broadway to the north, First Street to the south, S. Main Street to the east, and C. Main Street to the west. The neighborhood includes the Peralta Adobe, Los Angeles' last remaining mansion built before 1850. The area is known for several historically significant structures, including the Peralta Adobe and Wilshire Boulevard Temple, the Orpheum and Paramount Theatres, the Russian Hill Roller Mills, the Fourth Church of Christ, Scientist, and the Ogden Building (formerly the first YMCA in the city).
