It is important to mention that IMatch Anywhere supports more than 11000 different cameras and camera manufacturers. This is a big amount of cameras supported by a single software, making it a truly universal, universal DAM management software. Due to the fact that IMatch Anywhere support a wide variety of cameras, it might be a very complicated task to mention all the existing ones. It would be impossible to mention all of them, but we will list the most popular ones. Keep in mind that IMatch Anywhere will work with your cameras and RAW files if they are supported by the IMatch Anywhere compatible manufacturers, which includes Canon, Nikon, Pentax, Olympus, Panasonic, Fujifilm, Leica, and Sony. The program reads camera settings and data from camera file, so you do not have to manually configure each camera. The IMatch Anywhere GUI is very simple and intuitive. The remote access features also work very well. Nevertheless, there are many users that use this software to manage their RAW files only. If you only need to access your RAW files remotely, this is a program you should definitely consider. The program is capable of managing images of most popular, professional cameras, including Canon, Nikon, and Pentax. IMatch Anywhere supports a wide variety of RAW formats and version. The software allows you to share images and run useful actions. The program can be used with a large number of image formats, including JPEG, RAW, TIFF, PNG, GIF, and EPS. This program is a powerful Internet tool that allows you to import images from virtually any storage format on the web, from online galleries. However, it can also work as a visual catalog.
