Elotronics XL is an ultra-powerful multi-effects unit for use in professional DJ, mastering and studio environments. Its extensive range of processing features allows you to create the most comprehensive effects chain in the world. Using the ELOTRONIX XL DJ mixing console you can now have a full range of pre- and post-production effects applied to a track at any time during the mixing process. It can also be used on external media decks for multitrack recording. ELOTRONIX XL includes 12 effects loops with powerful multi-effects processing, two multi-effect lines with reverb and delay, and a tape noise generator. More than 25 effects can be used in combination for maximum processing power. ELOTRONIX XL can be controlled via MIDI through a MIDI signal or SCS-interface. FXpansion DS

Description: DS describes a free format of plugins for DigiDrive Sequencer, which made for DJing software to mix tracks. It is a collection of 50 sets of small and customizable effects for various use in DJing and mixing. Within the plugin, you can customize the presets and adjust the parameters, including band-pass, resonance, and attack and decay. Pitch shift, delay, reverb, phaser, tremolo, chorus, flanger, wahwah, wah, rotary, noise, sample and hold, ring modulator are all also available. The plugin includes high-quality effects. FXpansion DS consists of several categories of effects. The first category is Drive with high-quality filters such as notch, highpass, lowpass, bandpass, and LP/BP all with a lot of possibilities. Here you can also place a muting to enable the filter. The second category is Delay with effects such as feedback, delay line, chorus, tremolo, ring modulation, flanger, and phase shifter. The third category is Pitch shifter which is a multiple of 1 and 2 and placed on the third position of the drive category. The last category is EQ. In this category, EQs are placed first and second. The plugin also includes a compact toolkit consisting of a stand-alone GUI with a mixer and effects and two parameters are the control panel and timeline. All effects and the controls are placed on the side and can be hidden according to your preferences. This enhanced version adds many new features: 80 seconds maximum delay, Delay and LFO Pan now syncable to host, Biquad X filters, Tape noise generator... CATEGORIES: Share: Description: If you like this plug-in, I highly recommend you the first version of this plugin. Indeed it's a very powerful device with a lot of possibilities. After a long time I develop this new version : many people have asked for this modification. This version uses the B-77 (2 Revox) which are different from the B-77/70 that are very popular now and that I use for my products. (B-77/70 are great devices that can make a continuous loop but you can't modify them, see our products of this brand) 2 Revox B-77 that make a continuous loop. This enhanced version adds many new features: 80 seconds maximum delay, Delay and LFO Pan now syncable to host, Biquad X filters, Tape noise generator... TIP : you can modify the B-77s with the Rolands. Please note that in this version of the plugin : - The plugin has been re-written in Java Script with new possibilities of customization (Rolands can now be linked with host) - You can add / remove Rolands in/from the Parameters tab - You can adjust all the parameters with graphical interface in the I/O and FX tabs - You can read the documentation of the script in the doc folder IMPORTANT : I recommend you to read carefully the description of the plugin that have been added in the description section of this page.
