A fibro-osseous lesion of the hip is a relatively uncommon and, at times, difficult to classify lesion. It is most frequently found during the course of a chronic inflammatory disease, or post-traumatic osteoarthritis. This lesion has only recently been described as a benign fibro-osseous lesion at other sites in the skeleton. Histologically, this lesion is characterised by the presence of an increased number of collagen fibres interspersed with proliferating osteoblasts and osteoid. This lesion has the potential for rapid destruction, recurrence and malignant change. 595f342e71
