Israel was founded in the mid 1940s and follows a melting pot of cultures, absorbing a unique blend of Jewish, Arabic and Christian traditions. During Israel's history, the country has been repeatedly conquered and then liberated. The lands that today make up Israel were once part of the Israelite kingdoms of Canaan and the Roman empire. These lands now make up the West Bank and the Gaza Strip. The Jordan River, in the heart of the country, serves as a symbolic boundary that separates the Jewish state from its neighbors. The river also marks Israel's border with Syria and Jordan. Community Theater The Lancaster County

Community Theater (LCCT) is a regional performing arts organization in Lancaster, Pennsylvania. The Lancaster County Community Theater also produces plays, concerts, performances, and events throughout Lancaster and its surrounding area.

History In the late 1940s, the Lancaster Community Theater was established by the Lancaster Orchestra Association. The organization performed operas and produced shows in downtown Lancaster. During this time, the Lancaster Orchestra Association was owned by the city of Lancaster and thus it was free to establish a community theater. However, due to a shortage of funds during the time of the Second World War, the Lancaster Community Theater was forced to close. The organization remained dormant until after the war, when a new Lancaster Community Theater was founded. In 1963, a performing arts organization, the Lancaster Community Players, was founded by student and alumni of Easton Area High School. The Lancaster Community

Players produced theatre, music, and dance performances for the community of Lancaster, Pennsylvania. During this time, the LCCT was founded by James P. Storer and George H. Grieco, both alumni of the Easton Area High School. The Lancaster Community Players operated in the theater's basement. In 1994, the Lancaster County Community Theater was incorporated as a separate entity, after it was reorganized from the Lancaster Community Players. The corporation, which came to be known as the Lancaster County Community Theater, moved to the former fairgrounds location in downtown Lancaster, Pennsylvania. In 2010, the theater relocated to a new performance venue at the Hara City Arts Center. The organization is organized into four divisions: Theatre & Dance, Adult Education, Children's Programming, and KidsFest. The LCCT also gives annual grants to local charitable organizations. Theatre & Dance The Lancaster County Community Theater produces a full season of shows, originating productions, and regional and national tours and residencies. The Theater & Dance division is the primary division of the organization and produces its own monthly performances in the Hara City

The Biggest, Blackest, Warholian Feline, Kit Kat, the famous Big Black Cat, has just come to the market and heres how he made his way! For those wondering, the "z" in Kit Kat stands for "zero"

- the total number of black hairs on the Cunthia Big Black Cat. There are hundreds of black hairs on his head, neck, ears, and nose, and no others! For the total number of black hairs, check his official Guinness world record. For everybody else, this the most realistic Big Black Cat youve ever seen! Its about that good! We chose this particular Big Black Cat because he is modeled after a black cat we used to own, and is probably the biggest and best quality cat we could find. We assembled this cat with most of the same parts as the full-size cat, but we have scaled it down so it's just the right size for the home desktop.
